Jones - Glover Wedding at Calgary

St. Michael's and All Angels' church, Calgary, was the scene Saturday of a pretty wedding when Marian Lillian Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Glover, became the bride of Mr. D. C. Jones, of Lethbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jones of Vulcan.

The ceremony was performed by Major Rev. Canon W. H. Morgan.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gownned in white satin fashioned on princess lines, having a fitted bodice with long sleeves and a lace yolk, and tiny buttons down the back. Her long veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of deep pink roses and heather.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ella Donaldson wore a floor-length gown of heavenly blue taffeta, the bodice fitted and having short puffed sleeves. The skirt was made in tiers, each tier wider than the one above. A taffeta cap and a bouquet of talisman roses completed the ensemble.

The groom was attended by John McCaffrey of Lethbridge. The wedding music was played by Mr. Francis Willis. Donald Cameron sang "My World" during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 100 guests at the American Women's Club rooms.

Mrs. Glover who received with the bridal couple chose for her daughter's wedding a navy and white floral sheer gown and a large black hat. American Beauty roses made her corsage.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, was smart in a dark red crepe frock with hat to match and a corsage of white roses.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for the Pacific coast. On their return they will make their home at Lethbridge.

Comstock - McBride

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church on Sunday afternoon, when Rev. M. Dobson united in marriage Miss Florence McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McBride of the Vulcan district, and Mr. Phillip Comstock of Rosebud.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Norah Collier. She was becomingly attired in an afternoon frock of airforce blue, with navy accessories. Her bouquet was of deep pink roses.

Miss Christie McBride was her sister's bridesmaid. She chose a gown of deep blue and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Mr. Joseph Sears of Beynon, brother-in-law of the bride, attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. James Sears and Mr. William McBride.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for thirty-five relatives and close friends was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The reception rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion in pink and white, while the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Mr. W. D. Allan proposed a toast to the bride.

The bride's mother was gownned in navy blue tripé sheer, and the bridegroom's mother was smart in black velvet.

After a short honeymoon the young couple will make their home on the groom's farm in the Rosebud district.

Freight Increase On Railway Lines

Lumber and Metal Shipments Have Brought More Activity

On the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R., freight traffic sees little change over this time last year. But on the main line business is notably increased, due to greater movement in lumber and metal shipments. Last year there were 20 crews working out of Medicine Hat in November. This year there are 30 crews.

On the Lethbridge division coal, cattle and beet shipments are about the same. Coal averages about 420 cars weekly. There is a 20% increase in lead and zinc to eastern Canada. From 4 to 6 cars of these metals pass from points in B.C. through Lethbridge daily.

The Manitoba Legislature approved of estimates which cut $37 from the salary of each member and $580 from the salary of each minister with a portfolio. Here in Alberta, the question is asked will the Social Credit government do likewise and save the taxpayers thousands of dollars. Knowing the cabinet members as we do, we have our doubts.

Interest Shown In Proposal To Establish Egg Marketing Board

Speakers Claim Price Spread Between Producer and Consumer Too Great; Vote is Taken

Local poultry producers were much interested in a meeting held here Friday afternoon, at which time the establishment of a Marketing Board was fully discussed and voted upon.

The plan was introduced by E. R. Nicholls of Lethbridge, who acted as chairman. J. L. Mills of Granum outlined the aims of the proposed board as it pertains to producer and consumer. He expressed the belief that it was time that the producer should have some say in the marketing of his goods. He cited the enormous spread between the price the farmer gets for his eggs and the price the consumer must pay, which he maintained amounted to 49% of the annual market. Part of this was brought about from large packing interests buying up eggs when they were worth only a few cents, and holding them to force the market price up. It was the speaker's belief that this surplus could be substantially reduced by greater consumption of eggs if price could be kept from becoming prohibitive.

J. H. Rhodes of Brant maintained that the present cost of grading and storage is at least 4 cents and said 2 cents should be ample for this service if undertaken by the board. He said that temporary grading permits would be granted to producers and to storekeepers who had facilities for grading, thus doing away with the expensive egg depots.

Another objective named was the raising of the standard of Alberta eggs which is the lowest in the Dominion of Canada.

In reply to a question the speaker emphasized that the plan is definitely constitutional, and unlike a similar one presented a few years ago, which was declared ultra-vires. The Board would consist of five members, three of whom would have to be producers. Shares would not have to be subscribed to, Mr. Mills declared, as the scheme is not a shareholders concern. It would be financed partly by the savings gained through handling of the eggs by themselves, and loans could be obtained from the provincial treasury bank of the bank.

Mr. Leslie Richardson was nominated by acclamation to represent the local panel. Voters were asked also to signify whether they wished the scheme to be of 2, 3 or 4 years duration, but the three year period was recommended. The plebiscite will be forwarded to the Department of Trade and Industry.

S.C. Con. Opposing Sirois Report

Objects to Centralization of Power in Dominion Government; Monetary Reform

Ninety-three delegates attended the Social Credit annual convention in Edmonton. Opposition was expressed to the adoption of the Rowell-Sirois report on Dominion-provincial relations, on the ground that it aims at centralization of power in the hands of the Dominion government, and this opposition was adopted by resolution. Efforts to achieve monetary reform were incorporated in another resolution.

A resolution to ask the federal government to cancel compulsory hog grading was defeated, but this may come up again for vote.

Sudden Death of Elizabeth Flood

It was with profound regret that her many friends received word of the sudden death of Elizabeth Flood in Calgary on Thursday afternoon.

Known affectionately as "Lib" she was the eldest daughter of Mrs. A. J. Flood and the late Al Flood, and was born on December 16th, 1904 in the State of Washington. She came to the Vulcan district with her parents as a very small child. Later she attended grade and public schools here, where her sunny disposition and ready wit earned for her a large circle of friends.

Eleven years ago, after completing a business course, she joined the staff of the law firm of Burns and Mavor in Calgary, where she has remained ever since.

Besides her mother who resided with her, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Isabel Murray, Okotoks; Mrs. Marion Thomas and Mrs. Winnifred Peacock of Longview; and one brother, Bud.

Her father predeceased her last June and a sister, Mrs. Addie Dwigans, in 1933.

Funeral services were held in Calgary on Saturday morning with grave side services later in the Vulcan cemetery, where interment was made in the family plot. Pallbearers were W. E. Butchart, F. R. Middleton, R. Flynn, C. R. Robson, L. Leverington and W. J. Little.

North Pilot Flies Under Thick Fog

Pilot Phil Lucas of Peace River Airways, formerly of Vulcan, this week at Yellowknife told of flying for 25 minutes under a bank of fog hanging 50 feet above the icy, slush-filled water of Great Slave lake. Attempting to fly to Yellowknife with a party of company officials several days before, they had run into such heavy fog that they were unable to land.

It had been impossible to determine their exact location when one of the passengers identified the buildings of a construction camp through a small hole in the blanket of fog under them. This camp is 20 miles north of the settlement. Finding it impossible to land, Lucas turned back for Hay River, but found the fog had closed in behind him and was rapidly settling down to the water, shutting out visibility entirely. He flew east over open water with the fast-gathering fog forcing him closer and closer to the surface.

For 25 minutes he searched the narrow horizon for Outpost Island, a tiny point of rock covering no more than a few city blocks, around which a shelf of ice had formed. The island was found only a few minutes before the early northern twilight threatened to destroy visibility. They landed.

The party was forced to wait two days for the fog to lift sufficiently to allow them to continue their flight. Their arrival in Yellowknife signalled the end of freezeup, as it was the first plane of the season to come in from the "outside."

Paul Bredt, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Pool, collapsed shortly after making an address at the Wheat Pool convention, and died in a Calgary hospital shortly after. His death occurred on Nov. 28th.

Municipal Taxes

CITIES and towns would be in much better financial position if they were not burdened with so much tax-free property. A resolution, which comes up in some form, before municipal bodies perennially, protests the immunity of government property or business from municipal taxation. One of the most thriving businesses in this and many other towns, is the liquor vendor store. But no municipal tax is collectable. The provincial government telephone office and the federal post office are two other examples of revenue producing businesses operating in the town, owning property in the town and paying neither business nor property tax.

There are other untaxed properties, but the majority of these are more less community projects, not in the same class as the revenue producing institutions.

It is said that if a resident of a municipality should die leaving no heirs, the estate becomes the property of the government. Rents may be collected, thus realizing revenue, but no taxes are paid because the property belongs to the government.

Recently at a municipal convention, a resolution was passed in respect to old age pensioners. It was asked that in case of assets remaining after the death of anyone receiving pension, the municipality should be reimbursed on a ratio of the amount paid by the district.

In cities, the amount of valuable property exempt from taxation for one or another reason, amounts to startling figures. But towns also suffer under the same handicap. It is time for a complete revision of the principles, and basis of taxation. The municipal body being closest to the people, and knowing better their resources is most reluctant to increase taxation. And yet it is forced to maintain and even extend services, on greatly restricted income. The senior governments ride along for nothing. While themselves imposing taxes which bring in ever-increasing revenue, they are the dead-ends of the municipal field.

Pertinent Topics

DISCUSSED BY H. C.

A strike took place in a factory employing 7500 men because the management would not dismiss a man who refused to pay $12 overdue fees to a C.I.O. Union. The factory was working night and day turning out material for airplanes. The Dies' Committee had given information that strikes as well as sabotage would be employed to hinder war effort, and one may be sure that that was the purpose of this strike. If the administration is unable or unwilling to nip such treachery in the bud, it is in no position to contemplate with equanimity the result of more vigorous preparation for war.

The application of the Golden Rule to war, suggested by Pope Pius XII can never be tested because if there is a sufficient supply of its essence on hand and the disposition to use it there will be no war.

It must confuse German scholars specializing in race purity to find that the Axis now includes Latins, Slavs and Orientals.

There need be no doubt that Germans would welcome Italian reverses were it not that they have to go to the rescue. Mussolini paved the way for such help by asking permission to join in the bombardment of London. It was foolish of him to announce this because Italians cannot kick now if Rome is bombed. Indeed it is plain that the Italian people would like to be out of this war. Prince Humbert is alleged to be a candid critic of the Duce's strategy in attacking Greece, and the defeat of an army superior in numbers and equipment shows that the soldiers have a stomach for the fight.

Mussolini's dismissal of over fifty ranking army officers is an admission that he is not infallible—an admission no dictator can afford to make. He appointed or promoted these men. Is there any assurance that the men he appoints or promotes now will be any better? The dismissed officers may help to spread the impression that the one man who should be dismissed is the Duce himself.

Italy now is so much a vassal of Germany that she cannot get rid of him or pull out of the war without losing Trieste and Fiume and that district around the Brenner that was Austrian. German armies would sweep into Italy and take revenge for Italy's wincing in the other war. They would take fiendish delight in subjecting Italians to the choicest of their terrors and cruelties. To this pass Mussolini led Italy when he allowed Hitler to put over Anschluss which he had resisted only a year or two before.

The British lost a lot of valuable war material when France quit cold, and now the Germans use it. They drop British bombs on Marseilles. The Vichi government finds splinters showing British manufacture and at once demand apology and reparation. Petain may be a dupe but the other men of Vichi are conspirators deliberately co-operating with Berlin to ensure British defeat. And they had better succeed, too, if they value their own worthless lives.

GERMINATION TESTS

Farmers in the prairie provinces will be interested to learn that this Department has decided to offer germination tests of field crop seeds as a free service. In order that the tests may be thoroughly reliable, modern thermostatically controlled germinators are being installed. The equipment has been designed in consultation with officials of the Production Service, Plant Products Division, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Reports on samples submitted for testing will include remarks on the presence of weed seeds and general "soundness." Samples of seed should be taken to the nearest country elevator belonging to any of the line elevator companies associated with the work of this Department. These companies are listed on most of the publications issued from this office.

Sufficient material will be provided by 2-ounce samples, but these must be delivered at the earliest possible date. It is necessary that our laboratory be in full operation by January 1st in order to avoid congestion in March.

In addition to the germination tests, we shall be glad to make growing tests and to report on the purity and suitability of the variety for the district concerned. If the growing test is desired in addition to germination, it is only necessary to inform the local grain buyer.

Motorists' Decalogue

Thou shalt have one driver, and that one a good one, at the wheel.

Thou shalt not make false traffic signals, false laws nor serve them, but shall obey all traffic signals and the law. Stop, look and listen.

Thou shalt not study the law in vain for thou shalt not be held guiltless if thou are ignorant of the law.

Remember every day to drive carefully. Be courteous to all sons, daughters, servants, animals and strangers, that every day may be free from accident.

Honor thy fellow motorist, that thy days may be long upon the highways which the state giveth thee.

Thou shalt not injure, kill, be unjust or inconsiderate.

Thou shalt not muddle thy brain with intoxicants, sleep, carelessness or any other enemy that hinders thy alertness.

Thou shalt not steal thy fellow motorist's part of the road.

The Change

It was hard to think that he must go. We knew that we would miss him so. We thought that he must always stay Beside us, laughing, day by day; That he must never know the care And hurt and grief of life out there. Then came the call for youth, and he Talked with his mother and with me; And suddenly we learned the boy Was hungering to know the joy Of doing something real with life, And that he craved the test of strife.

And so we steeled ourselves to dread. To see at night his empty bed, To feel the absence and the gloom That hover o'er his empty room. And though we wept the day he went, And many a lonely hour we've spent, We've come to think that he, somehow And we, are more contented now. We're proud that we can stand and say

We have a boy who's gone away. And we are glad to know that he Is serving where he ought to be.

It's queer the change that time has brought; We're different now, in speech and thought.

His letters home mean joy to us, His difficulties we discuss. When word of his promotion came, His mother, with her eyes aflame With happiness and pride, rushed out To tell the neighbours round about Her boy, her boy is doing well! What greater news can mothers tell? I think that pity now we show For those who have no boys to go.

Bob Edwards' "Eye Opener"

Same power arrester, prosecutor; sentencer; Sunday services more colorful; Calgary unambitious; 12 fine new engines for C.P.R.; Down with Grit power, give us autonomy.

While we are on the subject of the R.N.W.M.P., we might draw attention to the anonymity of the position of an R.N.W.M.P. inspector, sitting in judgment as a magistrate.

Here we have a victim, arrested by the police, prosecuted by the police tried by the police and sentenced by the police. Technically the same authority is arrested, prosecutor and judge. This may be necessary in the far north where there are no Justice of the Peace, but in populous center the man charged should get a better run for his alley.

Happily our R.N.W.M.P. are men of character and a high sense of honor and never, to our knowledge, have given an example of arbitrary action. But the system looks bad from the judicial view. The prisoner may be as innocent as Mary's little lamb, but the outfit that arrests him are going to have natural difficulty in seeing it that way.

Sunday Service Made Happy
Ha. A new departure in church circles. A sporty vicar on the Thame (England) announces that during the boating season, special seats will be reserved in his church for persons who wish to attend in boating costume. It always did strike us as rather absurd about the Protestant religion that no one was supposed to participate in it unless he had his black Sunday clothes on. This English parson is paving the way for a humaner type of Christian life. High River please note.

Needs of Urban Life
Americans who visit Calgary must think the people very backward. No street cars, and still worse, no house-to-house delivery of mail.

But most astonishing of all is the sublime indifference to this unhappy fate. No local clamor amongst these 15,000 people. Visitors are staggered at the submissive lining up at the post office wicket, just like Okotoks and Claresholm. Towns half the size of Calgary have mail delivered to the door, not once but several times daily. But nothing will be secured without brisk agitation.

Twelve New Engines

The public will be astonished and delighted to learn that 12 new powerful engines are coming from the east to make their headquarters at Calgary. This is not an Eye Opener joke. It is perfectly true, and all we are anxious about is that they won't interfere with the activities of old 32, without which we cannot live. Old 32, which, from its number, must have been in its prime an engine of high degree, is one of the old standbys, a landmark, a finger post pointing to the flight of years since the C.P.R. laid its mitt on the country.

What a Newspaper Does

Speaking of what a newspaper does for a community, U.S. Senator David Davis of Illinois, made an address that should remain ever green in the memory of newspaper men. He said that every local paper gives from 500 to 5,000 free lines for the benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means does more for his town than any other man, and in all fairness should be supported. Not because you happen to like him or admire his writing (which probably you don't) but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be crowded with great thoughts, but financially, it is of great benefit to your welfare. Today editors do more for less pay than any man on earth. We know.

Down With Grit Power!

Do the people of the Territories realize what a continuance of Grit power means? It means that we shall not be granted self government till our public lands have been sold off to enrich the east and we are left with no assets. Just so soon as our birthright has been chewed up and spat out, we may get provincial autonomy from a Grit government. No sooner. Will the people by supine indifference quietly acquiesce in this cold-blooded steal?

Good natured people not only submit to imposition, but impose upon themselves. A large part of our western self imposition results from failure to realize what we really are. We have a curious way of looking on the government as something apart from ourselves. This is because it is a couple of thousand miles away. We forget that we are the public and entitled to a voice in the government. Let us then be up and kicking.

Apropos provincial autonomy, Illinois had only 55,000 inhabitants two years after admission as a state. Nevada even now has not much more than that. The Territories have over 50,000.

More Grain Needed For Hog Feeding

Would Remove Yield from 1,000,000 Acres From Ordinary Wheat Market

In a statement issued recently predicting a shortage of coarse grains soon in western Canada, Hon. J. G. Taggart, minister of agriculture in Saskatchewan and chairman of the bacon board, said that on the basis of bacon production figures previously

Gov't Opposes National Park Power Development

Pressure on Parliament for Power Development Schemes in Banff National Park; Crerar and Park People Object

Calgary Power Company is anxious to secure rights to develop power in the Banff National Park. This is being opposed by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of resources, by park authorities and others. The Calgary Power Company is seeking a source of supply to serve the big explosive plant in Alberta. It is claimed that the big war industry will be of great advantage to the district and that more power than the present margin of reserve is necessary. The power it wants is in the park with large storage capacity and other favorable aspects. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of supply, is said to be anxious for the explosive plant to go forward and is anxious to help the company.

The question centres on the right of a private utility company to secure a site in a public park when alternative sources outside the park are said to be available. Opponents look to the post war situation in its hold on the park. They think that if more power is needed it can be secured from Alberta coal and gas. Lake Minnewanka is the site asked for, and it is contended that the beauty of this resort would be ruined.

Alberta wants war industries, but apparently has not sufficient power to operate such industries. Alberta members of government are in a cleft stick. They have pleaded for war industries, but do not want the people's park at Banff to become part of a private utility scheme.

issued by him, it is estimated that there will be 16,000,000 bushels of wheat or 20,000,000 bushels of barley needed during the present year in excess of that used last year, to produce the increased amount of pork products required by the British government under the new bacon agreement.

This alone will require the production of approximately 1,000,000 acres, or roughly 4 per cent. of the total wheat acreage of western Canada.

It would automatically have the effect of removing the production of 1,000,000 acres from the ordinary wheat market either by using wheat as feed or by substituting the raising of barley for wheat of that acreage.

Marketing figures indicate that the amount of feed grain used for feeding cattle will be increased during the present year. This is indicated. Mr. Taggart said, because the marketings of feeder cattle have dropped down and exports to the United States are less, indicating that larger numbers of cattle are being retained on the farms

Oil Production In Winter Months

More Stable Production in the Valley Instead of Usual Halted Activity

Robert E. Allen, chairman of the Gas Conservation Board, says that the Valley oilfield will likely produce at a more steady rate during the winter and the balance of 1941.

The conservation board chairman said existing crude oil storage and transportation facilities, nominations of refineries, and the efficient production of Turner Valley would permit a yield of 22,000 barrels of crude oil daily in December.

Last December, production of oil from Turner Valley limestone crude wells only amounted to a little more than 14,000 barrels daily. Then the allowable yield was largely determined by the available market demand, which reaches its lowest level in winter.

This December, production will be approximately 8,000 barrels daily more than in December, 1939, largely because storage has been made available by the refineries to care for oil produced in excess of the market demand.

"This very satisfactory condition has arisen as a result of the combined stabilization efforts of G. R. Cottrell, Dominion oil controller, and the Turner Valley producers themselves," Mr. Allen, who has been in consultation with the oil controller, stated.

Co-Ordinated Demand

"Mr. Cottrell has so co-ordinated the market demand of the prairie provinces (Turner Valley's normal market) that refiners of this district have provided storage and committed themselves to take crude at a fairly uniform rate until, at least, October 31, 1941. This action provided the necessary outlet for winter production."

Turner Valley producers have increased new well completions and largely provided reserve productive capacity.

Mr. Allen said it was the board's policy to work for recovery of the greatest ultimate production without losing sight of the fact that the best application of resources must be made to winning the war.

A labor shortage in Canada may make it necessary to increase working hours from 44 to 48.

Housewives at Vancouver protest recent increase in butter prices. These have gone from 27 cts. a lb. in Sept. 1939 to 35 cts. a lb. now.

Gov't Promises Free Cancer Cure

Beginning Jan. 1, Free Radium and X Ray for All Curable Cases Will Be Given

Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health told the Social Credit convention, that a four-year program to fight cancer will be launched in Alberta starting January 1. The provincial government will provide free radium and X ray treatment for all curable cases. The government aims to provide free surgical service, free hospitalization and free transportation to and from places of treatment. This is the ultimate objective as the plan is expanded.

Dr. Cross said that at the last session of the legislature, $50,000 had been voted for treatment of cancer. The first step was to secure services of a qualified Edmonton radiologist who has made a survey of cancer treatment in Canada and the United States, Dr. Cross continued. The radiologist's report has now been sent to the government.

Dr. Cross said the survey showed that methods of 12 months ago in dealing with cancer are being discontinued. Radium was being discarded while "deep X-ray therapy" is coming to the top. "This is what we will stress until we find something better," said the minister.

In Alberta there are from 600 to 700 new cases of cancer reported yearly, he said, and of these "50 per cent of cases reported early are being cured."

Finish - Dressing Market Turkeys

(From Dept. of Agriculture)

Well finished, carefully dressed turkeys are more saleable than inferior birds. Fattening should begin about six weeks before the birds are to be marketed and the fattening process should be gradual.

Before the birds go to roost at night they should receive all the grain they will eat. High percentage of oats at this feeding will produce whiter meat. A good morning mash consists of the following: ground oats 30 per cent, ground wheat 30 per cent, ground barley 25 per cent, meat scraps 15 per cent, and fine salt 1 per cent. If possible, milk should be used to moisten the mash, and if it is available, the meat scrap may be reduced to 10 per cent. The mash should be mixed two hours before feeding.

Turkeys should be killed and dressed at home, as they are poor shippers alive. Birds to be killed must be handled carefully to avoid bruising. Starving for 24 hours before killing and giving all the water they will drink is beneficial.

When selling turkeys to dealers whose reputation is unknown, it is advisable to determine their financial position. On several occasions much difficulty has been experienced in the obtaining of payment. Alberta dealers must have a Provincial Poultry license, but when shipments are going outside of the province, they should be consigned only to reputable buyers.

Planning For The Payment of Taxes

(From Cowichan Leader)

For those who strive to meet their obligations the present is a good time to review their own particular situations. It is obviously unwise to picture even better general conditions. That is merely wishful thinking. Personal adjustments, if necessary, should be envisioned within the present framework of industrial and business activity.

More than that, war conditions indicate that a factor of safety should be allowed. We must remember that among our war time duties there are new financial burdens which must be cheerfully borne. And in this connection it must not be forgotten that, in addition to the National Defence Tax which is being collected each month, the Federal Income War Tax Act has set new high levels of taxes covering this year's income which will have to be met in the new year.

For instance, a single person, without dependents will pay $31 on an income of $1,200; $55 on $1,500; $105 on $2,000 and so on. Other categories will pay different amounts. A married person with one dependent will be assessed $6 or $2,000; $43 on $2,500; $87 on $3,000. In between and higher amounts will be in proportion. Then, with no dependents the tax will be higher; with more dependents, lower.

While the Government has announced a proportional payment plan extending from January to August it must not be forgotten that the payments are really due from this year's income and should be provided out of it. Otherwise the future is being mortgaged—while the coming year will entail more rather than less taxation.

This covers only Federal taxation. There still will be Provincial taxes and licenses, local taxes and licenses.

Americans Glad Of Roosevelt Win

Friends Across the Border Writing to Local People Express Satisfaction in Election

Quite a number of local people have received letters from relatives and friends on the American side commenting on the recent U.S. election. All of whom express delight that President Roosevelt was re-elected.

The following is comment typical of many others: "Weren't you pleased when the common people of the U.S.A. took it upon themselves to defy the third term tradition, and elected Roosevelt for president? In spite of all of what Teddy Roosevelt used to call 'predatory wealth,' and all the propaganda they could muster through 95% of the press and magazines, in spite of the National Chamber of Commerce and all the subsidiary chambers; in spite of untold millions to mould public opinion all for Mr. Willkie, still the Republicans could not stamper the common people in his favor. 'We, the people' declared themselves for F.D.R. He has worldwide recognition as a Good Neighbor, and has definitely championed Britain in her war against totalitarian Germany and Italy. There is evidently the belief that the destiny of the U.S.A. in these perilous times could be placed in his hands with entire confidence. The British may now expect every help that the U.S.A. can give in winning this war."

Alta. Wheat Pool Has Large Surplus

Reminiscent of some of the more bounteous years prior to 1929, operations of the Alberta Wheat Pool for the past year (1939-40) resulted in a net surplus of $746,283.40.

The balance, credited to undistributed elevator earnings, resulted after allowing $573,346.58 depreciation on Buildings and equipment and paying the Alberta government $213,877.08 interest on the overpayment on 1929 pool operations. Net operating revenue for the year was $1,551,507.06.

These figures, along with the optimistic word that net earnings reflected an approximate $300,000 improvement of the previous year were contained in the report of the general manager, R. D. Purdy, presented the 18th annual convention of delegates which met in Calgary.

In view of heavy stocks carried over from the previous spring and ideal seeding prospects, the pool constructed several new elevators, one at Nobleford, the old plants at these points being utilized as annexes.

In connection with the current crop and early indications of congestion, Mr. Purdy explained the pool system increased its capacity by some 7,000,000 bushels through construction of annexes.

While the result of the 1939-40 operations were classed as "highly satisfactory in view of the numerous operating problems involved over the year," the future picture is not quite so cheerful.
